☉-Aromatherapy Tuning Fork Massage Combo $125.

Dr. Michele Arnold or Tracey Whitney, L.Ac.

*Experience superior results with the combination of acupuncture, cupping and aromatherapy massage with vibrational tuning forks.

*Oils are chosen specifically that offer immune support, promote relaxation, stress relief, decrease pain and inflammation and lift the mood.

☉The vibrational sound waves from tuning forks on Acupuncture points stimulate homeostasis in the autonomic nervous system for balance in the body and mind.

☉Vibrational Acupuncture with

Dr. Sherry Shoemaker. $400 initial/$300 Subsequent visits

Includes constitutional Facial tuning forks with acupuncture. Facial Rejuvenation enhances the constitutional treatment by improving your outward appearance to reflect inward changes. The treatment creates an ageless natural appearance.

How Can Acupuncture & Chinese Medicine Help You?

The World Health Organization recognizes acupuncture to be effective in treating a list of common ailments which are: ear, nose & throat; Immune & Allergy Disorders; Gastrointestinal; Gynecological & Genitourinary; Psychological Disorders; Musculoskeletal & Neurological; Respiratory; Addiction.

Why Acupuncture?

It is based on the ancient concept dating over 2,500 years that the body is made up of channels (meridians) through which vital energy (chi) flows. When the chi flows smoothly and harmoniously there is no disease or pain. When it is stagnated or disrupted pain, fatigue, or illness will result. Stimulating points along the meridians will help release blocked energy and maintain balance, restoring health and reducing pain.

Occasionally one may feel a slight pinch that quickly diminishes. Generally, the sensation can be dull, achy, or tingly. Patients find that the treatments are relaxing and usually involve little or no pain. A natural side-benefit is stress relief!

Non-Needle Acupuncture: points may be stimulated using gentle microcurrent Color-Light (MicroLight is Energy Light Acupuncture).
